

Statement of participation

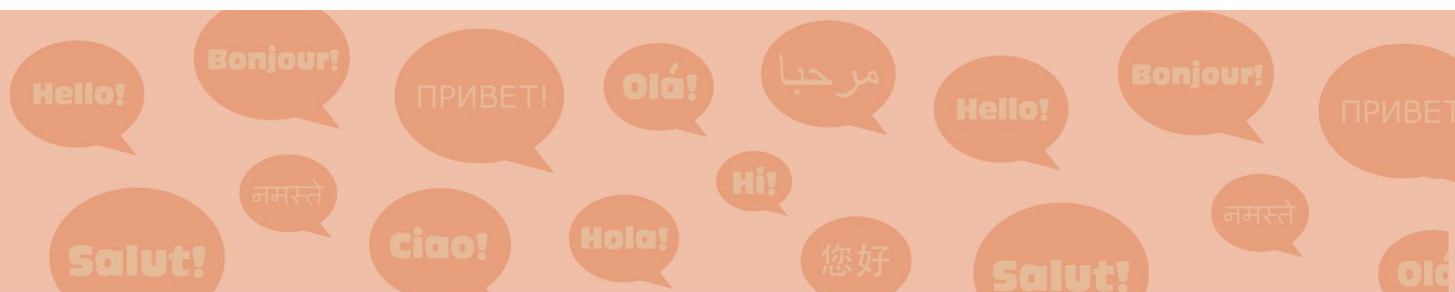

TOSCANO BARRETO NETO Gil

has completed the free course including any mandatory tests for:

Advanced German: Fragen der Identität

This free 13-hour course explored the language that can be used to talk about identity.

Issue date: 31 August 2026

www.open.edu/openlearn

This statement does not imply the award of credit points nor the conferment of a University Qualification.
This statement confirms that this free course and all mandatory tests were passed by the learner.

Please go to the course on OpenLearn for full details:

<https://www.open.edu/openlearn/languages/advanced-german-fragen-der-identitat/content-section-0>

COURSE CODE: L333_1

Advanced German: Fragen der Identität

<https://www.open.edu/openlearn/languages/advanced-german-fragen-der-identitat/content-section-0>

Course summary

Identity – your own and that of others – is the focus of this free course, Advanced German: Fragen der Identität. You will hear German speakers from different backgrounds talk about their regional and national identities, and you will consider what it is that makes us who we are. You will evaluate and summarise information from a variety of sources and engage with text, audio and video clips through reflective activities and interactive quizzes.

Learning outcomes

By completing this course, the learner should be able to:

- understand fluent German speakers discussing their regional and national identities
- discuss the concept of identity in German
- reflect on the complex relationship between who we are and where we are from
- make notes and summarise information in German
- use direct and indirect quotes.

Completed study

The learner has completed the following:

Section 1

Identität als Konzept

Section 2

Über Grenzen hinweg leben

Section 3

Reflektionen zu Heimat und regionaler Identität

Section 4

Typisch deutsch?

Section 5

Gelebte Vielfalt

Section 6

Was also ist ‚Identität‘?

Section 7

Abschluss